

Designed to Support the Curves of the Body for Optimal Results

This bodysuit is engineered specifically for women with a smaller waist with fuller hips and thighs, or those seeking a curvier or hourglass figure. Engineered with hidden inner reinforcement waist panels, single-ply compression on the hips and thighs, and side seams that follow the shape of the body for optimal recovery support after aesthetic body sculpting procedures.

Female Curves Bodysuit with Hidden Reinforcement Panels

Accurate sizing is essential for optimal fit and comfort

The Female Curves Bodysuit is designed and sized to follow the contours of the curvy body type to ensure optimal targeted compression. First, determine if the patient has a curvy body type. Then, check their measurements and use the Female Curves Bodysuit size chart to determine the right size.

Where To Measure For The Right Fit

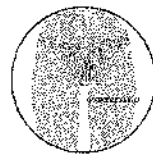

WAIST

Measure the waist; identify by bending to the side to find the natural crease.

HIP

Measure at the fullest part of the hips and buttocks.

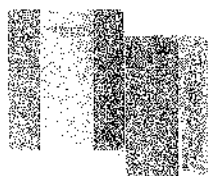

THIGH

Measure at the widest point of the thigh.
